the annual depletion by death, desertion, and expiration of enlistment is 10,400 men, may well have struck the House with astonishment. There is a fact, however, much more astonishing than this, namely : that we have virtually (as shown with a good motive and for justifiable ends." During the trial, the plaintiff being asked to testify as to the ingredients of his medicine, refused to do so, whereupon the motion of the defendant's connect to strike out the complaint and ply to officials in this county.

VERITAR. dismiss the suit was granted by Judge CHAMBERT The General Term has now confirmed the decision, and, in addition thereto, gave the plaintiff the benefit of he following pertinent scoring :

Indeed, it is impossible to read the vulgar, and in many respects shameful, as-sertions and instructions that accompany the compounds of plaintiff without being struck with the vileness of his impostures. That he can bring an action for libel for injury alleged to be done to his trade in his medicines, by denouncing them as arrant quackery, and at the same the protect bimself against exposure by claiming them to be valuable secrets, is a proposition that cannot be maintained. In the laudable exposure of such "hum-bugs" as the pretended medicines of plaintiff and others, the defendants take upon themselves great risks, and subject themselves to the annoyance of suits; but I think they are not exposed to any danger, that tourts will not impose any shield for the protection of such guilty fraud and deception of the public. If the plaintiil did not choose to try the question of the true character of his "golden remedies," he should have kept out of a court of jus-tice.

IRON AND NAILS.-The Baltimore American of Saturday says that Nails are dull and in full supply in that market, and selling at $4 00 to $4 25 for 10s. A special to the Cincinnati Commercial of Saturday from Pittsburgh says that the Pig Iron market has been comparatively quiet during the past week, but prices are still sustained and the market is steady at the following quotations:

Coke—100 tons No. 1 Mill at $31, four months; 20 tons No. 1 Foundery at $35. Bituminous coal smelted—600 tons medium Eorge at $29, cash ; 200 tons Neutral Gray at $31, four months; 100 tons Red Short at $32; 30 tons Foundery at $31 50, cash; 60 tons do. at $33, four months; cash; 60 tons do. at $33, four months; 1,850 tons, a mixed lot, at $30, four months. Charcoal—110 tons No. 1 Foundery at $41a43, lour months: 170 tons No. 2, in lots, at $38; 72 tons Mill Iron at $35, 20 tons Gold-blast Foundery at $55; 20 tons Mill at $47. The market for finished Iron continues active, and prices are firm but unchanged; it is quoted on a basis of 3c for bars.

The Pittsburgh Commercial of Satur day says that the demand for pig metal has not been at all active during the past week, and the sales were restricted to job lots, offered below the current market price. It also says that this may be accounted for in part by the fact that all holders of standard brands of good gray forge iron are asking $33 per ton, and holding firm at that price, while buyers who are now receiving the iron purchased during last month, which is coming in as fast as they are able to hauf it from the railroad, are unwilling to pay it to the fact that price, and the remainder in three equal it from the railroad, are unwilling to pay it comes in the same as formed at the prechase money in cash, and the remainder in three equal it from the railroad, are unwilling to pay the Commissioners taking the bonds of the purchase. lots, offered below the current market it from the railroad, are unwilling to pay the advance while they have stocks sufficient to keep their works in operation.

A Woman's Prayer in a Salcon. [Waynesboro, O. (Feb. 3), Correspondence of the Cincinnati Commercial.)

Anxious to see the principal dealer, Mr. William Rape, before the ladies got to his place, I entered his saloon, and was about applying the reportorial gimlet to his knowledge-box, when the ladies, having changed their route, entered to the numchanged their route, entered to the num-ber of thirty, lead by a venerable Quaker-ess. Extending her hand, with a pleasant smile, the Quakeress, Mrs. Jane Jones, of Burlington, O., asked "How's thee?" and made the usual request for leave to pray, which was conteously granted. For two minutes or, more every head was bowed in deep silence, which alone would have showed the Quaker element in the move-ment here, then leaning on the bar, with ment here, then leaning on the bar, with eyes reverently turned toward heaven and hands clasped upon her bosom, the lady offered up the most earnest, moving pray-er I have heard for many a day. It was not the words so much as the occasion and the spirit in which it was uttered that gave it force. I reproduce it as nearly as possible, for certain reasons which will appear in the perusal:

possible, for certain reasons which will appear in the perusal:

Our Father an beaver, who knowest the inmost boughts of all hearts, who cannot be deceived min a sense of our weakness, useding great help from Thee, to do what little is in great help from Thee, to do what little is in great help from Thee, to do what little is not weakness, useding great help from Thee, to do what little is not the relief and salvation of Thy crours and to the relief and salvation of Thy crours and the down the relief and salvation of Thy crours and the down the relief and salvation of the relief and salvation of the crown that he was a casin, as we have often saked before, that Thou wooldst send Thy word with power into the heart of this dear brother, that he may give up this terrible sin that has so long kept him away from God. Thou who has moved so many hearts. It mercy condescend to move upon the heart of this man, that he may no longer endanger. Its lamnotal soul. Oh, help him to say, "Let others do as they may; as forme I will get rid of this traffic, which is the came of so wuch sin and suffered enough of this great will, which fills our land with rain until our dear country is trembling on the verge of destruction. Often we know hile dear brother has trembled at Thy word like Felix of old, but still stands where he did, saying; "Go thy way for this time; when I have a more convenient seasoul will send for the."

There was every little singing, but be-

There was very little singing, but be-tween the prayers selections of Scripture were read. The tone of most of the prayers indicated that they were delivered by Quakeresses. At the end of two weeks labor, the only progress made has been inducing the drug stores to promise to sell only for medicine. Mesars. Tom Francy, Will Raper and Tim Liddy, the three "wickedest men," will sell liquor, and decline to sign any pledges—so no saloon has been closed. The citizens appear to think that the saloons are not too. Who Elected the Great Hereford to Congress. Editors of the Intelligeneer :

BRAXTON C. H., W. VA. Pebruary 5th, 1874.

In last week's issue of the Weston Dencard, under the head of "Who Elected Frank Hereford?" we see the editor of hat paper arrogates to himself a vast amount of credit for very little actual service, stating among other things that but for his foreight in placing the name of the press to denounce quack medicines has just been decided in New York. The sult was brought by David Richards against the American Agriculturist, to recover $25,000, that paper having denounced his medicines as "nonsensical queckery," and himself as an "imposter."

The defendant set up the plea of justification, and alleged that the publication was into the pressure of the publication was appeared by the please of the Person of the pressure of the publication was a constituted thousands of his own tickets in this and adjoining counties of the Third District.
